

Special Consideration Policy for Corporate and Professional Qualifications

The London Institute of Banking & Finance defines extenuating circumstances as circumstances, normally exceptional and outside the control of the student, which happen unexpectedly on or before an assessment and have prevented the student from performing in an assessment at the level expected or required of them. This document details the policy and procedure for Corporate and Professional Qualifications programmes.

Special consideration is the term used when The London Institute of Banking & Finance considers cases of extenuating circumstances.

Summary of Policy

We are committed to the fair treatment of all of our students during the assessment process. The Special Consideration Policy has been designed to ensure that we:

- provide an assessment and awarding system that supports equality and fairness to our students; and
- maintain the integrity and security of the assessment process.

The Special Consideration Policy applies to students who believe they have been disadvantaged during, or before, an assessment because of an injury, illness or other unforeseen temporary circumstance beyond their control that may have adversely affected their performance in one or more assessments. We recognise that, as a result of such circumstances, some students may not be able to demonstrate their true level of ability during an assessment.

1.0 Section A – Criteria for Special Consideration

- 1.1 Claims relating to examinations must be submitted within five working days of the assessment. Claims relating to written assignments must be submitted on or before the date of submission.
- 1.2 If you are aware of an extenuating circumstance which affects your studies prior to the timeframes stated under paragraph 1.1, you must inform us immediately.
- 1.3 If you do not present your claim within the timeframes set out in paragraphs 1.1 and 1.2 you will be considered as declaring yourself 'fit to sit / fit to submit' the assessment concerned.
- 1.4 Where there are reasonable grounds we may, exceptionally, consider accepting late submission of special consideration claims.
- 1.5 We will not consider requests for special consideration if the issues / circumstances concerned have previously been addressed through the implementation of special arrangements under our Reasonable Adjustments policy.
- 1.6 Likely acceptable extenuating circumstances

The following is a non-exhaustive list of examples of what we accept as an extenuating circumstance:

- i. Bereavement- death of close relative / significant other (of a nature which, in an employment context, would have led to an absence in accordance with Compassionate Leave).
- ii. Serious short term illness or accident (of a nature which, in an employment situation would have led to absence or sick leave) that could not have been addressed in advance through a reasonable adjustment request.
- iii. Evidence of a long term health condition deteriorating.
- iv. Evidence of a long term health condition which has reoccurred.
- v. Significant adverse personal/ family circumstances.
- vi. Significant disruption at the assessment venue.
- vii. Incorrect information provided to the student.
- viii. Scripts are not presented for marking, where this is not the responsibility of the student.

- ix. Other significant exceptional factors outside the control of the student, for which there is evidence of something that caused a student not to perform to their best ability.

1.7 Unlikely acceptable extenuating circumstances

The following is a non-exhaustive list of circumstances unlikely to be regarded as falling within the relevant definition:

- i. Statement of an extenuating circumstance without evidence (medical or otherwise) to support it.
 - ii. Medical circumstances for which appropriate reasonable adjustments have already been made.
 - iii. Retrospective evidence - that is evidence that is not in existence at the same time as the extenuating circumstance eg a doctors note which states that the student was seen (after the illness occurred) and declared they had been ill previously.
 - iv. A circumstance that was foreseeable or preventable.
 - v. A circumstance which in a work situation would be unlikely to lead to absence from work.
 - vi. Holidays, regardless of the date of booking.

 - ix. Poor practice eg no back up of electronic documents.

- 1.8 If your examination or assessment performance (including assessed coursework) has been affected due to you breaking the law or consuming alcohol or any other non-prescribed drugs, we will reserve the right not to consider your application for special consideration.
- 1.9 We will not make a special consideration that affects the integrity of the qualification or disadvantages other students.
