

KnowledgeBank

Useful resources

The London Institute of Banking & Finance

Insights

Industry insights, student stories and career advice.

Podcasts

The latest news, career advice, conversations with industry leaders and more.

Maths and Economics

Brush up your skills and increase your knowledge via Khan Academy. Find lessons relating to:

Measuring national income

Patterns in data

Averages

Simple hypothesis testing

You can also find lessons on

Economics and Finance

Academic Writing

Find guidance on how to approach writing at university via Macmillan's Study Skills website, as well as tips on critical thinking.

Useful websites

Most of the resources below are free, or offer some free content. Use them to read around your subject area and stay on top of recent developments.

Bank of England

BBC Business

British Library: Business and

Management Collection

Economist (you can register for free to read five articles a month)

MarketWatch

Looking for a good introductory book to read?

Try the first one or two chapters of either of these books:

The Financial Times Guide to Banking by Glen Arnold (2014)

Banking: A Very Short Introduction by John Goddard and John O. S. Wilson (2016)

Note: Don't feel you need to spend money on books or other resources – you will have access to our comprehensive e-library, KnowledgeBank, once you commence your studies. In the meantime, you can read a short preview of both of the books above via Google Books.